Installation Overview

Fort Stewart was established in September 1940 as the Anti-Aircraft Artillery Training Center. The first unit to arrive was the 70th Coast Artillery Regiment. It was designated Camp Stewart on 10 Jan 1941, after Brigadier General Daniel Stewart, a Liberty County Revolutionary War hero. In the fall of 1941 Camp Stewart troops participated in the Louisiana Maneuvers, the largest peacetime field operation undertaken up to that time. By June 1942 twenty-one battalions were on post taking anti-aircraft training with training reaching its peak in the spring of 1943 when over 40,000 men were on Camp Stewart. During World War II, 151 Anti-Aircraft Artillery battalions would train at Camp Stewart. The camp served as a holding area for German and Italian Prisoners of War during World War II. It also boasted a Cooks and Bakers School, one of the earliest Women's Army Corps detachments and even Women Air Force Service Pilots unit which ferried aircraft for the Army Air Corps.

Following the end of the war Camp Stewart became a separation center and was reduced to caretaker status. Two officers, ten enlisted men and fifty civilians were responsible for the daily upkeep of the installation. The post was reactivated as the Third U.S. Army Anti-Aircraft Artillery Training Center between 1950-1953. In 1954 the post undertook tank and artillery training for the Third Army area and redesignated Camp Stewart Anti-Aircraft Artillery and Tank Training Center.

Redesignated Fort Stewart in 1956 it became a permanent installation. In 1958 the post became the U.S. Army Armor and Artillery Firing Center and permanent family housing construction began. During the Cuban Missile Crisis in 1962 the 1st Armored Division came to Fort Stewart for possible staging to Cuba. President Kennedy inspected the 1st Armored Division at Fort Stewart during their stay on post. Fort Stewart conducted flight training during the mid-1960s. About 44,000 soldiers trained here until flight training ceased at Fort Stewart in 1973.

In January 1974 the 1st Battalion, 75th Infantry(Ranger) was stationed at Fort Stewart, followed by the 1st Brigade, 24th Infantry Division in June of 1975 and the 2nd Brigade in May 1976. In April 1996 the 24th Infantry Division(MECH) was reflagged to the 3d Infantry Division(Mech).

Today only the center of the cantonment area contains buildings dating from World War II and the 1950s. Now consisting of 279,200 acres stretching over five counties, Fort Stewart is the largest installation east of the Mississippi River and continues to proudly serve our nation and its people.

Must Know Items

I. GETTING HERE

DIRECTIONS FROM THE AIRPORT: The nearest commercial airport is Savannah International Airport.

The airport features a rest area/information center for incoming military personnel. In the center, you'll find comfortable furniture, a television, and an automatic teller machine.

You will have to arrange your own transportation from the airport to Fort Stewart. There are several car rental agencies, and commercial taxi and shuttle services on-site.

Personnel arriving at commercial transportation facilities in the Savannah area without sufficient funds to pay for commercial transportation to Ft. Stewart or Hunter AAF should call the 24th Replacement at 767-0115/0111/2690. If arriving at the Savannah Airport use the military phone at the airport, it will call directly to the 3D Infantry Division Replacement.

If you're driving from the airport to Fort Stewart, follow the signs from the airport to I-95 South. From 95, take the exit for GA Hwy 144 (Fort Stewart and Richmond Hill). Turn right at the off-ramp stopsign, and stay on 144, which leads through post. Follow the signs to the replacement company.

IF YOU'RE DRIVING TO FORT STEWART: We're located about 41 miles southwest of Savannah and readily accessible by way of the major East Coast Highways (U.S.17,I-16, and I-95). The major highway passing through Hinesville is U.S. 84. The routes to Ft Stewart on the east and west edges of town are clearly marked on this road.

TRAVELLING BY BUS? Savannah and Hunter Army Airfield, and Hinesville (for Fort Stewart) are served by both Greyhound and Trailways Bus Companies.

TAKING THE TRAIN? Savannah and Jesup are served by Amtrak Rail System. Jesup is about 40 miles from Fort Stewart, along US Hwy 84.

TRAFFIC ON POST: Fort Stewart tends to become congested during early mornings, noon and evenings. There are several ONE-WAY ROADS that may be somewhat confusing when you are new to the area.

II. ARRIVAL AND CHECK-IN REQUIREMENTS:

Regardless of whether you expect to be assigned to Fort Stewart or Hunter Army Airfield, you must start your in-processing by signing in at the replacement company, Bldg 212 on Fort Stewart. [Company C, Headquarters Command (Replacement), phone (912) 767-0115/0113.

In-processing is done Monday thru Friday (excluding Federal and Training Holidays), but you can sign into the replacement company 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

There are no temporary quarters available on either Fort Stewart or Hunter Army Airfield. The on-post Guest Houses are pay-as-you-stay motels. We strongly recommend you make reservations.

* Fort Stewart Guest House: 7:00am - 11:45pm daily, except Christmas. Bldg 4951, Coe Ave. (912) 368-4184 70 units Soldiers on PCS orders have priority. Maximum stay for incoming personnel is 30 days. Outgoing personnel are allowed to stay up to seven days. Each room has a kitchenette and sleeps up to six people. Dishes and cooking utensils can be borrowed. Pets are NOT allowed. The staff can provide information about local kennels.

* Hunter Army Airfield Guest House: BLDG 6010 6:00am - 9:00pm Daily (912) 352-5834 or (912) 355-1060 If you're planning to live off-post, and intend to look for your new home before signing in, keep the following things in mind:

* START YOUR SEARCH by visiting the Community Home-Finding Relocation and Referral Service(CHEERS). It is located in Family Housing, Building T-1192, Bultman Ave, Fort Stewart telephone 767-1040/2127. They can provide information about off-limits areas, average costs, landlords and utility companies who waive security deposits, etc.

* DO NOT SIGN A LEASE until you know your final assignment (Fort Stewart or Hunter Army Airfield).

* DO NOT SIGN A LEASE until you've read it completely, and understand ALL your rights and obligations.

* DO NOT SIGN A LEASE until you KNOW you can afford it. Remember, your actual expense includes more than just the rent. Ask about average utility costs, project the cost of commuting between post and your prospective home, and the cost of repaying any financial assistance you may need for move-in expenses.

* If you find you'll need FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE for move-in costs, you'll be ineligible for a pay advance until you've started your in-processing, and ineligible for Army Emergency Relief (AER) until you've at least signed into the replacement company. Remember, also, any assistance provided will be exclusively for critical move-in costs. Neither finance nor AER can help you with your regular monthly expenses thereafter.

Local Community

Local Community Overview

Fort Stewart's nearest and largest neighbor is Hinesville, a town of over 30,000, situated immediately outside the post's main gate. Hinesville is the county seat of historic Liberty County. The county was settled in 1754 by descendants of the early Puritans of Dorchester, Massachusetts. Shopping, churches, and community facilities are spread throughout the county.

Fort Stewart is the town's major employer, and holds a dominant position in the Hinesville economy.

Ties between Hinesville and Fort Stewart are close and friendly. Soldiers take an active part in civic organizations and projects. Civic leaders, in return, attend many functions on the post and are actively interested in its activities.

The Liberty County schools have expanded to keep pace with the growth of the area. High-school-aged family members of Fort Stewart soldiers living on post attend Bradwell Institute and Liberty High School in Hinesville. Younger children attend two elementary schools on post. The county has two high schools, two middle schools and six elementary schools. Large enrollments in the high schools enable them to offer a complete curriculum, with both college preparatory and non-college courses offered to students. Four-year colleges are located in nearby Savannah and Statesboro.

Historic sites and tourist attractions in Liberty County include: The Old Jail on Hinesville's Main Street, built in 1882 St. Catherine's Island, once the home of Button Gwinnet Flemington Presbyterian Church organized in 1815 Midway Congregational Church, erected in 1792 and co-located with Midway Museum Fort Morris, manned during the War of 1812 The Bacon-Fraser House, built in 1837. Many of these sites are listed on the National Historic Register.

Nearly 62,000 people presently live in Liberty County. Some of the communities include Hinesville, Allenhurst, Flemington, Gum Branch , Midway, Riceboro and Walthourville.

Cultural Attractions

Liberty County's history predates that of General James Oglethorpe, who brought the first English settlers to Georgia in February, 1733.

In fact, two Liberty Countians had a strong hand in the founding of the country. Button Gwinnett and Lyman Hall signed the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia, on behalf of the colony of Georgia. Their legacies live on today. An elementary school is named after each man, and their homesteads are still in existence.

There were Europeans in Liberty County well before Oglethorpe claimed Georgia for the English. The Spanish erected missions in the 16th and 17th centuries on St. Catherine's Island, and they built a mission town for their Guale Indian converts in 1576.

The Savannah area, just 40 miles from Hinesville, boast literally dozens of historic sites. Museums, commemorative squares, birthplaces and homes of famous people, historic military sites, and a historic district of homes and business buildings pre-dating the Civil War.

Gwinnett bought St. Catherine's Island in 1765, but he was later killed in a duel by Lachlan McIntosh, a fellow patriot.

Linking Liberty's rich past is the Historic Liberty Trail. It connects the historic sites of the east end of the county. The driving tour has been recognized by the Department of Transportation as one of the top 25 projects in the nation funded with grant money from the agency. It is expected to be expanded upon in the future. The trail highlights historic sites in east Liberty County. Signs along the driving trail guide visitors Seabrook Village, Fort Morris, Sunbury, Dorchester Academy, LeConte-Woodmanston, and the Midway Church, Museum and Cemetery. The trail also directs visitors to the Fort Stewart Museum.

Name: Dorchester Academy
City: Liberty County, GA
Comments: The Dorchester Academy was founded in 1872 by the Rev. Floyd Snelson. Originally consisting of two dorms, a chapel, a dining hall, an industrial building and some farms, the school grew from its original capacity of 100 students to 320 by 1890. The school was open six months a year, since its students had to work in the fields the rest of the year. Yet Dorchester Academy's greatest claim to fame came decades after it outlived its original purpose. It was there, in the early 1960s, that the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., using the building as a rest and retreat area, plotted the strategy for the civil rights movement.

Name: Fort Morris
City: Liberty County, GA
Comments: Fort Morris, built by the British on a low bluff to protect the port, still stands and is open for tours. The fort was turned against the Redcoats in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812. It is the home to several re-enactments throughout the year. Visitors can take a look at life three centuries ago at the exhibits. The Dorchester Presbyterian Church was recently extensively renovated after nearly 40 years of neglect and inactivity. Built in 1854, the church was started as a branch of the Savannah Presbytery.

Name: Hall's Knoll
City: Saint Catherine's Island, GA
Comments: Button Gwinnett's home. Located just north of Midway, off Highway 17.

Name: LeConte-Woodmanston Plantation
City: Riceboro, GA
Comments: Also in a state of disrepair. Off the William Bertram Trail near Riceboro, the plantation was once 3,356 acres and a major rice-growing site. Its greatest claim to fame was its inhabitants, Louis LeConte and his family. The elder LeConte established internationally renowned botanical gardens at the plantation and left a legacy of scientific achievement continued by his sons John and Joseph, who were instrumental in the founding of the University of California at Berkeley and the Sierra Club respectively. The last LeConte, Jane, left in 1843. The Garden Club of Georgia has made restoring a 63-acre parcel of the tract a goal.

Name: Savannah Symphony Orchestra
Address: 309 York Street
City: Savannah, GA 31401
Phone: (912) 236-9536
Comments: Several concerts, featuring a variety of musical genre' are offered throughout the year. Many are free.

Name: Savannah Visitors' Center
Address: 301 Martin Luther King Boulevard (historic/downtown district)
City: Savannah, GA
Phone: (912) 94400456
Comments: A "must see". Tour displays, gather information about Savannah, and climb on a tour bus, trolley or horse-drawn carriage. 8:30am-5:00pm, Mon-Fri 9:00am-5:00pm, Weekends and Holidays

Name: Seabrook Village
City: Liberty County, GA
Comments: The old Seabrook School became a living history museum thanks to the efforts of the Devendorf family. Originally a project to restore the old school, it's grown into the only living African-American museum in the country. Its aim is to preserve and promote understanding of the vanishing rural black culture from the turn of the century. After the school was restored, a corn crib was built, an ox was purchased, three houses have been donated and the Dorchester Train Depot was bought. School children tour the site throughout the year and college students serve internships there, working and studying. Located next to the Palmyra Baptist Church, Seabrook is on the road to Fort Morris and Sunbury. Seabrook was the recipient of the 1995 Cultural Olympiad award.

Name: The Midway Cemetery
City: Midway, GA
Comments: Across the street from the Midway Church. Called "The smallest cemetery - with the largest number of famous people in it - in the United States." Those who rest there include governors, senators, the first American Ambassador to China, two generals from the American Revolution, and a number of Confederate officers. Nearly a quarter of the 1,200 graves still have their original markers and the stories of the resting places are nearly as numerous. A pastor of the Midway Church, torn between two women he had agreed to marry, committed suicide. His body was not placed in the cemetery but his grave was later included when the cemetery expanded. Since then, his tomb has been pushed up by the roots of a tree. While building a wall of the cemetery, two slaves began to fight and one used a brick to kill the other. After sealing his victim in the wall, the other slave ran home to say his companion had run off. Yet that spot in the wall - where the other slave was laid to rest - continued to crack and break through the years and required constant mending. When his bones were discovered, they removed and the wall fixed. Also in the cemetery is John Lambert, who began life as an orphan on Lambert's Bridge in South Carolina. Years later, Lambert became very wealthy but never married, fearing he might wed a relative since he never knew his real family. Even now, his large estate, set up for charitable purposes, is managed by secret executors.

Name: The Midway Church
City: Midway, GA
Comments: The church, right off Highway 17, was used as a gathering place for the Liberty Boys, residents participating in the Revolutionary War. The church's pastors included the Rev. Ablel Holmes, father to 19th century poet Oliver Wendell Holmes and grandfather to Supreme Court justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr.; the Rev. Jedidiah Morse, father of Samuel F.B. Morse, who invented the telegraph; and the Rev. I. S. Akson, the grandfather of President Woodrow Wilson. The church was used by Union troops in the Civil War as a cattle pen and slaughterhouse.

Name: The Midway Museum
City: Midway, GA
Comments: Next door to the Midway Church. Opened in 1957 and modeled after the cottage style typical of the late 1700s. Since its opening, the museum has been gathering documents, pictures and furnishings. It also has one of the only three original sets of musical glasses left.

Name: The Sunbury Cemetery
City: Liberty County, GA
Comments: The Sunbury Cemetery also exists but, much like the once-thriving port town of the same name, most of its headstones are gone. In the Colonial era, Sunbury rivaled Savannah as a successful deep water port but diseases and hurricanes whittled the town's population down.

Family Member Dental Plan

For more information on this subject:
www.ucci.com
<http://www.ucci.com>

Family members enrolled in the TriCare Insurance Program receive their dental care from civilian dentists and hygienists. Family members enrolled in the program may be seen only for care not provided under the insurance plan. This must be in the sponsors clinic and a letter of consultation is needed from the civilian dentist. The TriCare-Active Duty Family Member Dental Plan(FMDP) is administered by United Concordia Companies, Inc.in Camp Hill, pennsylvania. It is the voluntary comprehensive dental plan available to family members of all active duty Uniformed Services personnel. When the active duty member enrolls family members in the FMDP, a monthly premium is paid through payroll deduction. The plan has cost shares, maximums,and limitations similar to typical civilian dental group plans. The amount covered by the plan ranges from 100 percent to 50 percent, depending on the type of service. Family members must receive dental services in the United States, Canada, Guam, the U.S. Virgin Islands or Puerto Rico. Detailed FMDP coverage and enrollment information are contained in the FMDP Benefit Booklet. Sponsors and family members may call United Condordia's toll free Customer Service Department at 1-800-866-8499(or 1-800-891-1854 for Hearing Impaired) Monday -Friday from 8am-8pm EST.

Enrollment in EFMP does not adversely affect selection for promotion, schools, or assignment. Information concerning enrollment is not made available to selection boards.

Enrollment allows assignment managers at Army personnel agencies to consider the documented medical and special education needs of their EFM in the assignment process.

When possible, soldiers are assigned to an area where the medical and special education needs of their EFM can be met. This is dependent on a valid personnel requirement for the soldier's grade, specialty, and eligibility for the tour.

All soldiers are still eligible for world wide assignments.

Special education needs are only considered outside the United States. Assignments within the fifty states and Trust Territories are not based on the educational needs of children. Every local school system must obey public laws regarding the provision of special education.

To learn more about EFMP contact ACS.

Comments: All children grow and develop at different rates. Developmental milestones guide parents and professionals to help determine if some children are not sifting, crawling, walking, or talking within the same frame expected of children their age. Some children's growth has been affected by premature or traumatic births, serious and/or chronic illnesses or as the result of disability. Over the years, through programs such as Head Start and various special preschool programs, we have learned that early intervention can help avoid and/or lessen the problems children have as they grown up and go to school and become independent adults. As a result, families have grouped together to ensure that early intervention services are available to all infants and toddlers for whom their parent(s) have questions regarding their child's growth and development. The result is a law requiring states and military installations to develop early intervention services. The Fort Stewart Early Intervention program is available to provide those services and to support families in meeting any special needs their infants and toddlers may have. The service is located at Winn Army Community Hospital, Building 302, Harmon Avenue. There are fourteen services which Congress requires early intervention programs to make available to young children with special needs and their families: - family training, counseling and home visits - special instruction in speech pathology and audiology - occupational therapy - physical therapy - psychological services - assisted technology devices - diagnostic medical services - certain health services vision services - early identification, screening, assessment

- social work services
- certain transportation costs service coordination assisted technology service

Any military child, birth to three-years-old and has or has had any problems which could affect his/her growth and development is eligible.

Any parent who has questions and/or concerns about their child's development should contact Early Intervention Service for a family interview to discuss the questions or concerns you have regarding your child and to explore what support or service, if any you need.

Based upon your concerns, you and a service coordinator will determine what assistance/OF services should be obtained. Some families will want a full assessment to determine what is needed and others will want basic information regarding child development. The program is designed to respond to your questions and concerns and to provide what assistance is needed.

Survival Tips for First Termers Overview

Being in the Army presents many challenges for families. It is not always easy to juggle military duties, personal and financial obligations, while attending to the needs and wants of immediate and extended family. Military families are very special and are admired by many for their ability to make military life attractive. We know this requires a great deal of planning and solid preparation. Listed below are some "Survival Tips" to help you and your family as you face the challenges and opportunities of the Mobile Military Lifestyle.

Before You Move

Start saving now. Any PCS move is going to cost money.

Get a sponsor at the new post. He or she will probably be able to answer a lot of the questions you are going to want to ask.

Whenever possible, pack items which will be shipped and/or stored for a while in airtight containers. Mold, mildew, insects, and rodents can quickly cause serious damage to your possessions.

Contact the Relocation Assistance Program at the new post, ask for a Welcome Packet, Road Map, etc. Also, contact your Relocation Assistance Program at your losing post so they can provide you with information on you new duty station from the Standard Installation Topics Exchange Service (SITES) files.

Ask if they have a Family Member Employment Assistance Program if your spouse needs a new job.

Select a temporary mailing address for your time between duty stations. A family member or trusted friend is your most likely source. (HINT: What is your Leave Address going to be?)

Send out change of address letters (credit card companies, loan companies, magazines, banks, anyone who owes you money or a deposit refund, insurance companies). Go through your address book, your bills and financial papers from the past couple of months. Make out a list of company addresses, telephone and account numbers, etc.

Leave a forwarding address with the post office or Postal Service Center, as well as with your old unit.

Gather all important papers, records, ID cards, wills, etc., keep them handy throughout the move.

Talk to the staff at the finance center. They can figure out how much travel pay you will receive, talk to them about dislocation and temporary allowance, etc.

Go through your household goods and get rid of all those things you no longer want or need. You'll only have to unpack them at the other end, and if you are over your weight allowance, you'll have to pay for additional shipping.

Talk to the housing office about temporary lodging after you clear your current quarters and before you actually depart for your new duty station.

Get your children's school records or arrange for them to be sent to their new school.

Get family medical records that may be held by civilian doctors. Carry medical records with you if special needs must be met enroute.

If you are renting an apartment or house off-post, arrange for an inspection after your household goods are removed. Get an agreement in writing that any damage or deposit money will be refunded.

After You Arrive

If you have a sponsor, make contact as soon as you arrive.

Visit the friendly folks from the Relocation Assistance Program on post.

Drop by the local Chamber of Commerce. They'll have tons of the latest information about the community off post. Many chambers also give out welcome packets including discount coupons, free offers, etc. from local merchants.

Attend the Newcomers Orientation Tour, so you can become familiar with programs available to you and your family. If you are in need of cooking utensils, table and chairs, futons, etc., go to the ACS lending closet.

Contact your Family Housing Office for on-post as well as off-post housing. (For more information on housing refer to subject: Housing and Billeting).

Notify transportation of your arrival, so you can arrange for delivery of household goods.

Contact your loved ones to let them know you've arrived at your new duty station. Be sure to give your relatives information about you in case of Red Cross messages are necessary..

Travel Planning

If you haven't already saved money for a vacation between duty stations - DON'T TAKE ONE.

If you're driving to your next station, plan your itinerary carefully. If you have access to one of the many computer programs for travel planning, they're a great place to start. Check with your local Relocation Assistance folks to see if they have one.

Vehicle Ownership

SEAT BELT use on the installation is mandatory, as are child restraint seats. This is also Georgia law.

VEHICLES MUST BE INSURED: All vehicles operated on-post must be insured in the minimum amount of $15,000-$30,000 personal liability, and $10,000 property damage. It is recommended that soldiers also carry Uninsured Motorist and Collision coverage. It is always important to contact your insurance agent and change the location of your car since your rates depend on the area in which you reside. The following strategies can be used to save money on auto insurance: take as large a deductible as you can afford on collision and comprehensive coverage; don't purchase optional coverage that may offer few or rarely used benefits; take advantage of any discounts for which you are eligible; and shop around since premiums for identical coverage vary widely from company to company.

Money Matters

Whenever you PCS, you are going to be faced with some unusual expenses. Some examples of unusual expenses are: travel cost: tickets, gasoline, food and lodging, tolls, car tune-up, new tires before the trip, emergency repairs along the way; deposits: damage and rent deposit on new apartment, utilities, telephone and cable; closing costs if buying or selling a new house; temporary lodging at the old post and at the new post; food: restocking the refrigerator and food pantry; household incidentals; light bulbs, toilet paper, soaps, cleaning supplies and equipment; curtains, etc.

Other financial impacts of a PCS move are: do we depend on the money my spouse gets from his or her job? How long will it be before he or she can get a new job? Will it pay as well? We may have to live on less money for a couple of months, or more.

Higher cost-of-living includes not only higher housing and food costs, but also things like having to drive farther to work, child care costs, school costs, etc.

You might have a lower Variable Housing Allowance (VHA) or no VHA at all.

Don't take advance pay just to blow it on a vacation between duty stations, or anything else you just WANT - but don't NEED. A pay advance should be budgeted as carefully as regular pay. Save it for essential travel between duty stations, and for move-in costs at your new home.

Don't take or spend advance pay unless it is absolutely essential. You will pay it back by monthly deductions from your pay. So you will have less to live on every month until it's all paid back.

DO NOT draw Casual Pay. The full amount, in one lump sum, will be taken from your next paycheck - at a time when you can least afford it.

Where the money might come from:

Dislocation Allowance (DCA): two months' BAQ. (You will not receive this until well after you arrive at your new post - don't count on it being there when you need to pay deposits on a new apartment, or home).

Travel Pay: this is mileage related, and is usually not paid until after your check in to the new post.

Money might come in from a garage sale before you move. Refunds on rent and damage deposits from your old home or apartment. Again, it may take a couple of months to get these. Returned deposits, plus interest: apartment, utilities, etc. Lower cost of living or increased VHA. Interest on advance base pay.

PLAN AHEAD. START SAVING NOW.
